

CONFIDENT
HOMESCHOOL

Creating a Homeschool
Vision

STUDY GUIDE

with ToriAnn Perkey

HOMESchool to HOMESchool

www.homeschooltohomeschool.com

Creating a Homeschool Vision

Study Guide

Creating a vision for your homeschool is imperative because it creates a fabulous foundation for every other decision that you will make for your homeschool, from the schedule you create to the curriculum that you choose to use.

It also helps you focus on where you spend your time. Do you go on lots of fieldtrips? What extra-curricular activities do you participate in?

A vision will get you through the tough times when you can't remember why you started homeschooling and you just want to quit. And it will help you handle all the questions from others – some innocent, some not so much – that you're going to get.

WHY DO YOU HOMESCHOOL?

(Example: "I want to tailor an education to my child, not my child to an education.")

VISION VS MISSION

Vision

Why you do something

Example -- Island you are headed to

Mission

How you go it

Example -- Boat that gets you to the island

BUILD YOUR VISION

What do you want your children to look like at 25 years old?

Write words or phrases for each of these categories. Notice words or phrases that come up repeatedly.

Spiritually – Personal behaviors, outward actions

Mental – Formal education, life skills

Financial – Career, money management, entrepreneurship

Physical – Behaviors, image of self

Socially – Marriage, family, friends

Emotional – Internally, externally

Create a vision statement.

How do your children accomplish your vision in each area?

Consider character traits they need to develop, daily activities they need to be involved in, and ways they need to think.

Spiritually – Personal behaviors, outward actions

Mental – Formal education, life skills

Financial – Career, money management, entrepreneurship

Physical – Behaviors, image of self

Socially – Marriage, family, friends

Emotional – Internally, externally

What are a few specific steps in each area to help your children?

Choose only two or three in each area so that you don't get overwhelmed.

Spiritually – Personal behaviors, outward actions

Mental – Formal education, life skills

Financial – Career, money management, entrepreneurship

Physical – Behaviors, image of self

Socially – Marriage, family, friends

Emotional – Internally, externally

What are a few action items that you could begin to work on right now?

Choose only a few so that you don't get overwhelmed.

How will you review your vision regularly?

Plan now so that it continues to influence your decisions and keeps you motivated.

HOMESchool to HOMESchool

www.homeschooltohomeschool.com

ToriAnn Perkey is a mother, mentor, keynote speaker, and teacher. Homeschooling since 2004, she strives to lead each of her children—along with others that she mentors—to discover, celebrate, and prepare for the unique role that each has come to earth to play. Since 2008 ToriAnn has been empowering families through her interactive workshops, inspiring keynotes, and online programs to feel confident and successful as they liberate their children's education. She has served as the past president of Wasatch Home Educators Network (the largest homeschooling network in Utah) and the main teacher for The Homeschool Support Group.

